

*Experience One of the Seven Wonders
Machu Picchu Guided Walking Tour*

Once the largest empire in pre-Columbian America, the Incas vanished with barely a trace. Peru has that effect on people; once you've found the Lost City of Machu Picchu, you might lose yourself a little, too.

Trip Details

Moderate to challenging
Cusco to Cusco
7 Days / 6 Nights

Price per person from: $5,995*

Single supplement: $1,000

Prices may vary per departure date.*

Departure dates available for 2014 and 2015.

Day One: Walk the ruins of Pisac, high above the modern day town. Wind down the day with a special afternoon ceremony with a local paco, guardian of Inca religious traditions.

Day Two: Walk among the salt terraces and mountain villages of the Sacred Valley of the Incas. Marvel at yet another spectacular lunch, catered in the most amazing of places.

Day Three: Wander the cobblestone streets of Ollantaytambo, or venture up to the ruins at Pumamarca. Spend the afternoon on horseback, bike or sun lounger.

Day Four: Journey into the Andes aboard an Orient Express train and hike the famous Inca Trail. Take in the views of Machu Picchu from the Sun Gate.

Day Five: Awake atop Machu Picchu at the luxurious Sanctuary Lodge then tour the ruins with an expert local guide. Climb the impressive Huayan Picchu or hike out to the Inca Bridge.

Stay in an ancient colonial manor house in Cuzco and eat at an authentic hacienda.

Activity Level

Moderate to Challenging

This trip is rated Moderate to Challenging. Our daily walks range in distance from 4 to 10 km (2.5 to 6 mi.), on cobbled city streets, grassy terraced hillsides and along the winding footpaths of the Inca Trail. We travel throughout the Sacred Valley at altitudes between 1,500 and 3,200 m (5,000 and 11,000 ft.). Apart from one challenging walk up to Machu Picchu, it's moderate going. You may find, however, that the effect of the altitude will make the walks require more effort than they would at lower elevations. Expect some uneven stairs on our hikes in the ruins as well as some sheer drop-offs in places.
